

Night Work.

Extra strain needs extra strength. When a man begins to add to his hours of labor, and subtract from his hours of rest, he is putting an extra strain on his brain and body. In such cases many men make the serious mistake of using stimulating liquors, or alcoholic medicines. These can only injure. The spur forces on the horse, but does not strengthen him. Stimulants are only spurs. The need of the body is strength. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is invaluable to overworked men and women. It strengthens the stomach, increases the blood supply, invigorates the nerves, and gives vitality to brain and body. There is no alcohol in "Golden Medical Discovery." It contains no opium, or other narcotic. It is strictly a pure medicine.

Dr. Edward Jacobs, of Marengo, Crawford Co., Indiana, writes: "After three years of suffering with liver trouble and malaria I gave up all hopes of ever getting stout again, and the last chance was to try your medicine. I had tried at the home doctors and received but little relief. After taking three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and one vial of his Pleasant Pellets I am stout and hearty. It is due entirely to your wonderful medicine."

"SAPHO"

Presented in Splendid Style By The Chicago Stock Company.

Urbana has at last seen "Sapho." The Market Square Theater held a good sized audience last evening, which was made up of our representative people. It was one of the most fashionable audiences that has greeted a popular priced attraction in this city for many a day and all were well repaid for their presence there. The play was a literary masterpiece. The acting was excellent, and the scenery and costuming all that could have been asked of any higher priced company. Clara Prae and Norbert Dorente were both artistic and impressive in the leading roles, while John H. Nicholson as Uncle Cesar displayed his versatility and proved to the audience that he was capable of handling any part that might fall to his lot.—Ex.

This excellent company is the only repertoire company playing at popular prices that will be seen at the Grand, Mt. Sterling, this season. Watch for date.

Kentucky's Governor Marries Miss Jean Raphael Fuqua.

On Wednesday evening at Owensboro Governor Beckham married Miss Fuqua. The ceremony took place at the Presbyterian church. The edifice was elaborately decorated. There were sixteen in the bridal party. The thirteen Colonels, dressed in full regiments, and composing the Governor's Staff, were conspicuous as they faced the congregation. The bride wore a gown of white satin crepe de chine over taffeta. The maid of honor wore white Paris muslin, chiffon and lace. The bride's maids wore white Paris muslin. On account of sickness of bride's little sister the reception was held at the Rudd Hotel. An elegant wedding supper was served on the fourth floor to more than three hundred guests. Dinner cards in the shape of hearts, ornamented with cupids, were at the plate of each guest. The decorations and supper were elaborate. There were many and costly presents.

Governor and Mrs. Beckham left at midnight for a short trip to Chicago, after which they will go to housekeeping in the Executive Mansion at Frankfort. After the inauguration of the Governor, December 10, they will take the real bridal trip South. Mrs. Julia Wickliffe Beckham, mother of the Governor, has the distinction of being the daughter, sister, cousin and mother of a Governor. Her father, Chas. Wickliffe, was Governor of Kentucky in the 40's, her brother, Robert Wickliffe, was Governor of Louisiana, she is a cousin of ex-Gov. Proctor Knott and the mother of the present Governor. Several of the State officials and prominent men of the State attended.

The bride is only 21 years old, tall, graceful and quite attractive, well educated and accomplished. She is said to be the youngest mistress of the Executive Mansion. She is an earnest Christian, faithful in attending church.

Socially, Mrs. Beckham is not what is called an up-to-date society woman. She does not participate in the exhilaration from the wine glass, the fascination of the progressive eucbre, and the like. It has been said she attended hops, but the strict church goer, the model Presbyterian that she is, leads us to conclude differently, and we are decidedly of the opinion the Kentucky Executive Mansion will be presided over by a woman whose example is in every way worthy of emulation.

Mrs. Beckham is not skilled in the culinary art, nor is she thoroughly acquainted with the keeping of the home, but she is willing and capable of learning. She is from a family of seven children and their interviews with her and the fact that she has wedded Governor Beckham is evidence that she is a sensible, model woman.

Railroad Commissioners Complete Their Work.

The State Railroad Commission completed its work at Frankfort last Thursday, and its annual assessment of railroads as given out by that body is quite a large increase over last year. The total valuation of all railroads in the State is $52,471,672, an increase over the preceding year of $6,067,854.

It is the largest assessment ever made but the earnings of the roads justify the increase. The Commission simply based the valuation on the business done and the prosperity of the Kentucky railroads was something unheard of last year.

The gross earnings of the railroads was $23,887,917 and the net earnings $7,953,015. The total mileage in the State is 3,054.

The principal increases over the preceding year were as follows:

L. & N. R. R.	$3,841,224
Cincinnati Southern	702,045
Illinois Central	765,180
C. & O.	491,180
Southern Railway	130,076

Capt. Pete Everett, the Confederate Scout, Dies.

On Tuesday, November 20, Capt. Pete Everett died at the Asylum at Lexington, where for 26 years he had been an invalid. His remains were laid to rest at Machpelah in this city on Wednesday, under the auspices of the Confederate Veteran's Association. Rev. D. W. Robertson conducted the burial service.

The deceased was born and reared in this county. In the beginning of the rebellion he organized a company of cavalry and was Captain. He was a brave and daring Confederate, dreaded by the enemy wherever he went. By his command the court house in this city was burned when the Federals were in charge of the town.

At the close of the war he returned to this county and made his home here until 1874, when he was taken to Lexington.

Unsuccessful.

The many friends of Fred W. Bassett were surprised on Tuesday morning to learn that he had closed his grocery by filing a petition in bankruptcy. He wished to protect his creditors as far as possible, and seeing that his obligations could not be met he decided to take this course. His liabilities are about $4,500 in excess of his assets. He has had a fine trade and appeared to be doing well. He much regrets this necessity.

Department Store at Winchester.

John G. White has opened a new department store corner of Main and Broadway, and the spacious building is stocked from garret to cellar. It is a regular department store and in it can be found almost everything.

Fine Cooking.

People who go to Lexington to spend the day, whether on business or pleasure, usually want something to eat. An early train before breakfast carried us there. A prominent business man said: "If you want a good meal go to the Lexington Dining Rooms." We went and were made comfortable. A nice breakfast was served. The chief cook was formerly of Mt. Sterling. See advertisement.

More Smallpox at Caney.

Five new cases of smallpox near Caney were reported last Friday. There are about twenty-five cases in all. Travel and business are suspended. There is much excitement.

Gov. Roosevelt declined to remove Mayor Van Wyck from office, holding there was no proof that he had willfully violated the law through his connection with the ice trust.

County Attorney A. W. Lindsay, of Fulton county, a brother of Senator Lindsay, died on Tuesday.
